1970 Field Hockey Season

The 1970 Littleton High field hockey team started its season with only four players from the 1969 Wachusett League championship team. The four players included three seniors: Dinny Quinn, Carol Holden, Jeri Meyers, and one junior, Michelle LeBlanc. These girls were the nucleus around which this year's team was built. In addition, three other seniors also contributed to the success of the team.

The team had only eight days of practice before its first game. During this time, through hard work, one senior, five juniors, and a sophomore won themselves starting jobs.

The team opened its season with a 1-0 victory over the North Middlesex girls and during the next eight weeks compiled a record of eight wins, four losses, and two ties. This record was accomplished in spite of the fact there were so many players without previous varsity experience.

For the second year in a row, the record of the team was outstanding. Nevertheless, many will think of what could have been, for the Littleton girls met only one other team that they felt was their equal -- the Nashoba Regional Chieftains.

Carol Holden, one of the three returning seniors, led the center of the team's offense. She had played inner the year before but willingly changed to center forward. Her speed and quickness contributed greatly to the team's effort and success.

Dinny Quinn, the second of the returning seniors, played perhaps the most difficult position on the team -- the left wing. She was voted co-captain by her teammates and responded by having an outstanding season.

Jeri Meyers, the third returning senior, played right halfback. Jeri's enthusiasm and spirit were evidenced by the fact that she was either the first or second player on the practice field every day. Consequently, her contribution to the team was a reflection of that spirit. She was also chosen a co-captain by her teammates.

Mary Alice Maher, although missing her junior year, won herself a starting position at left inner.

Substitutes Kathy Kaye and Evelyn Whitcomb were faithful to the team and available when needed.

This could get interesting.

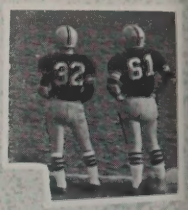
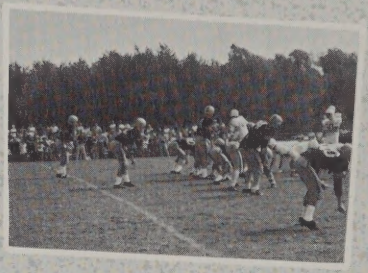
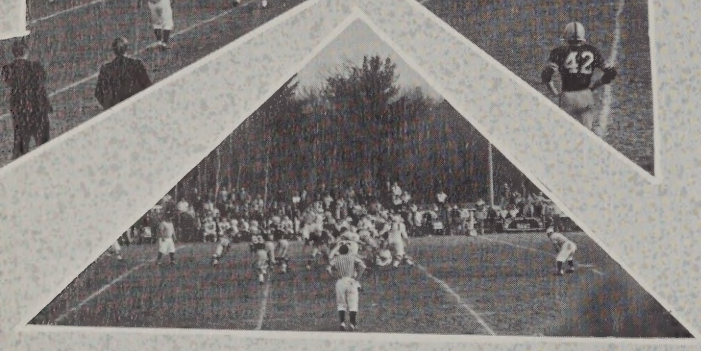
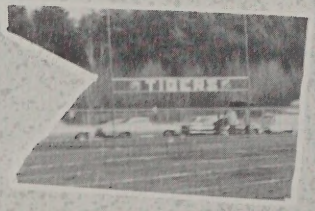
DOWN

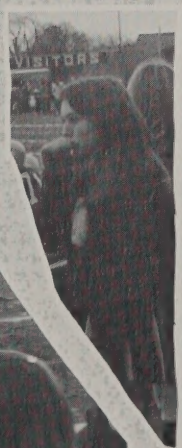






10 TO GO





We stop,
look at one another,
short of breath,
walking proudly in our winter coats,
wearing smells from laboratories, facing a dying nation . . .
a moving paper fantasy, listening for the new-told lies with supreme visions of lonely tunes.
Somewhere inside something there is a rush of greatness.
Who knows what stands in front of our lives, our fashions.
My future unfolds in space.
Silence tells me secretly everything, everything.

HAIR

Can you dream -- and not make dreams your master?

Can you think --
and not make thoughts your aim?

We make our promises
according to our hopes,
and keep them
according to our fears.

Man often believes he leads,
when indeed he is being led.

??????????

Don't hate me for seeming not to care
When you are down and out.
The open wounds have healed to scars Within, without.
No salt can recreate the pain.
I cannot lend my soul.
I had to close the door ajar,
To crush the cold.

C.R.

I have a name which no one knows I live in a place where no one goes.

My life is dull with no money
That is why
I'm never funny.

J.Mc.

I sought my soul,
But my soul I could not see.
I sought my God,
But my God eluded me.
I sought my brother,
And I found all three

ANONYMOUS

What can I possibly say to a friend who is as mixed up as you?
What can a friend do; What can I do to show you I care?
What can I do to show I long to help?
What can I do to make you smile or maybe even laugh again?
What can I do to stop the crying, especially when I am not there;
but when I am on the end of a telephone wire?
What can I do to make you feel warmth . . . instead of coldness?
What can I do to make you feel you belong?
What can I do to show you are not along . . . but just feel lonely?
What can I do to make you understand that,
although people you love deeply may hurt you,
they are only hurting themselves?
Why are there so many questions and no answers?
I want to become a part of you and make you feel less pain . . .
less angered;
but, will it make a difference?
We are only human beings, and that in itself is a question.

The wind-swept sand blows softly across the sea of greenish blue, and the sun beats heavenly rays upon the grass of last night's dew.

The waves crash and thunder against the dirty-faced rocks, and the white foam remaining washes against the rickety gray docks.

The sea gulls delve into this frothy greenish sea,
From which they get their daily prey of fishes delight and green algae.

The orange ball has disappeared leaving twinkling stars above, the sea has gone to sleep again for us to awaken to the sea of love.

J.S.

I do my thing, and you do yours.
I am not in this world to live up to your expectations,
and you are not in this world to live up to mine.
And, if, by chance, we find each other -- it's beautiful

Afraid of hurting myself or of rendering a part of me I deny restrained desires and I hurt you instead
In a painful oblivion
I reach for your hand
Yet, grasp only a black-filled life of quiet and tears.

Kathi Kaye

On my way to school
I stopped to play a game of pool
After that I walked a little ways and kept walking for days and days.

Shirley

And in the naked light I saw ten thousand people maybe more.
People talking without speaking, people hearing without listening,
People writing songs that voices never share and no one dare disturb the sound of silence

"Fools!" said I, "You do not Know silence like a cancer grows."

And the people bowed and prayed to the neon god they made.
And the sign flashed out its warning.
In the words that it was forming,
And the signs said "The words of the prophets are written on the subway-walls and tenement halls,"
And whisper'd in the Sounds of Silence

Friend's

Once Friends --
Yet,
No more.

Open doors --
Smashed, Closed.

Bright sunlight
Once
Now dark --
Bleek midnight.

Why cry --
Theres,
You --
and me.
And . . .
me.

J.S.

Memories must,
one day fade,
for although precious moments fall as dewdrops upon parched sand
they can wither too, as fragile blossoms in the summer heat do or become veiled, then overshadowed, by the mists of time.
Kathi Kaye

Wisdom bestowes an understanding to the mind Love bestowes a benevolence to brotherhood.
Happiness bestowes an enchantment to mankind
But without a knowledge of these things one may not conceive such contentment.
K.S.

Yesterday is only a dream
and tomorrow is only a vision, but today well-lived makes every yesterday a vision of happiness and every tomorrow a vision of hope.
P.B.

You are one of those beautiful people,
one that when you see . . . makes you smile -- one that when you hear . . . makes you laugh -- one that when you have . . . makes you special --
You are one of them.

She was a castaway today
jutted from a world of another plot and day,
and wondering, where was home?

Society with its one false face and plastic dome of gold, and with its steady pace.
And wondering, where is home?

She roamed the lands and hills today
the meadows low and green looking for a place to stay, and saying, is this home?

She made her home among the wood --
Her friends around her daily --
She loved it all she could.
And whispered, This is home!

Her friends were squirrels and bees,
and singing birds
who lived among the woodland trees and sang, This is home!

A man once came to visit her to say she had to leave.
This did cause a woodland stir.
She cried, Oh my home!

Back to the place from whence she had come
To the land of hypocrits
To the drone of the city's constant hum
And wondered, There is home?

She crept away one dreary night in search of the ones she loved in search she put up quite a fight.
And hollered, Where is home?

It took her weeks to get her there,
to a building low and high.
There was no room to spare.
And she whispered, This is home?

GAYLE

I know a wall with grapevines twining
Round its stones, and cool sun shining
Down to make a leopard in the shade.
Soon the years, without a sound,
Will strew the rocks across the ground;
Time destroys the things that men have made.

C.R.

If you can,
just for a moment,
remember in your life
when the glow of joy was so bright that it seemed as if time stood still . . .
Then that joy will blind you forever.

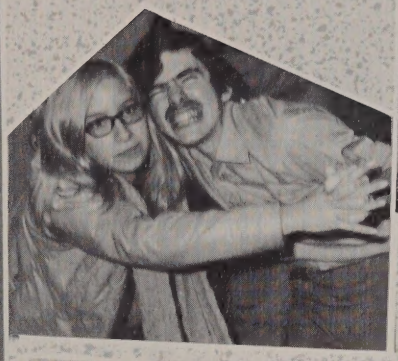
to live;



white lace and promises

we're on our way.

a kiss of luck

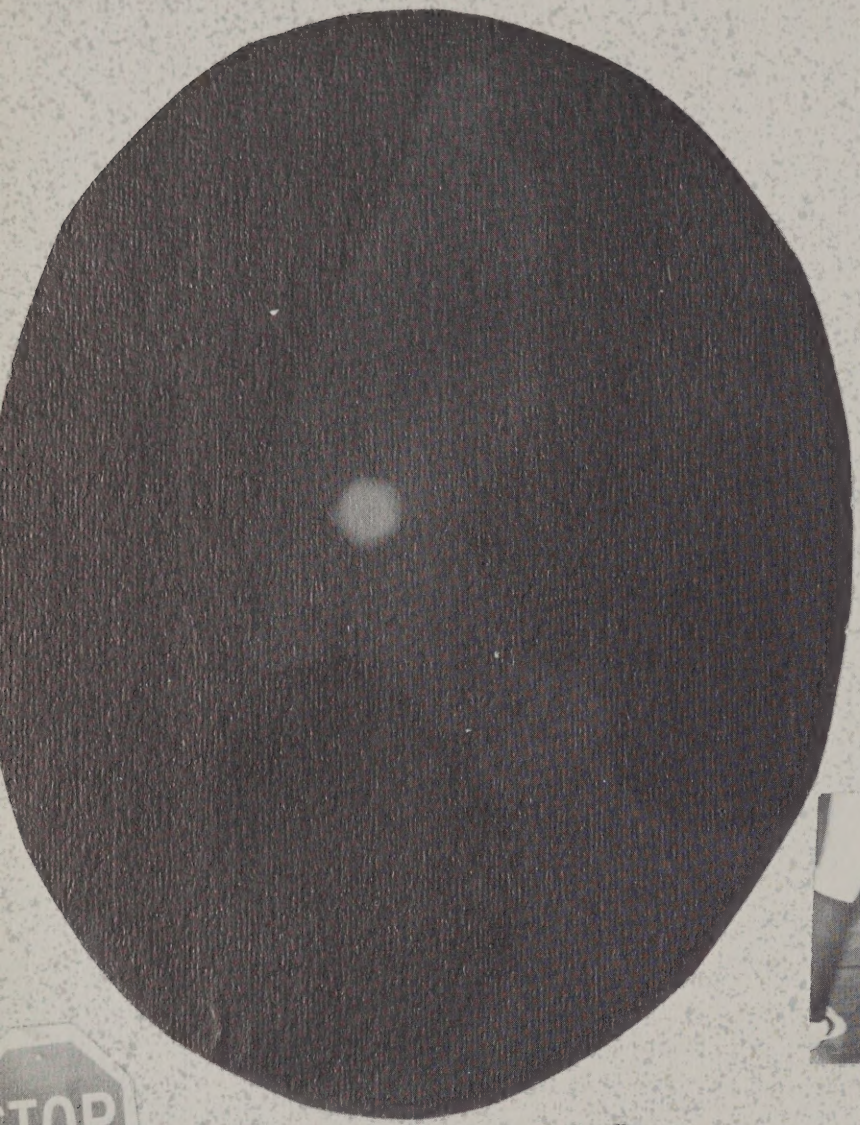
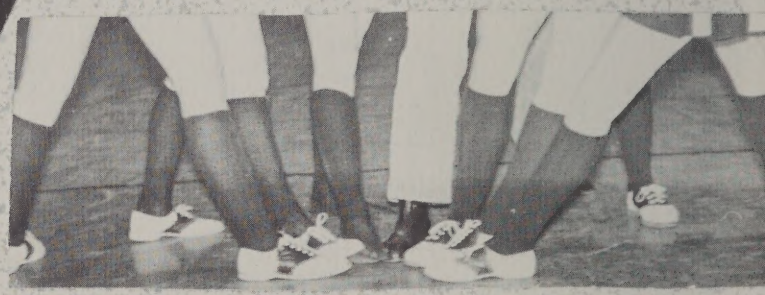
and

We've only begun.

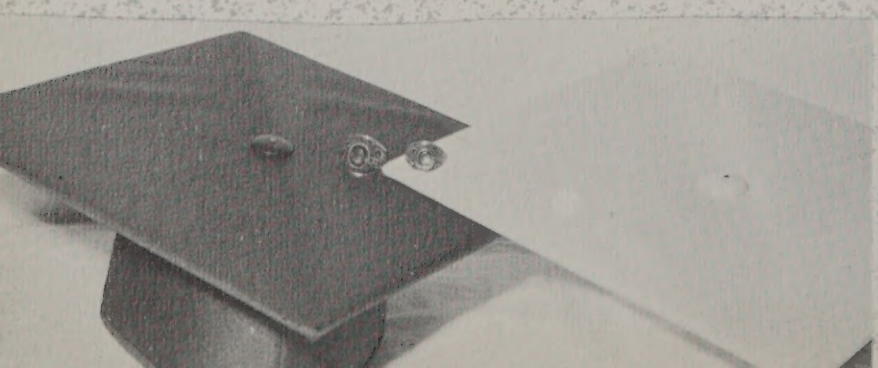


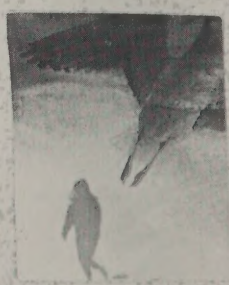
Before the rising sun, we fly



we start our walking and learn to run,

So many roads to choose,

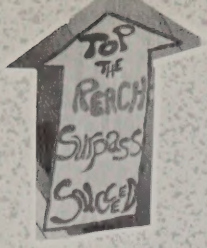




AND

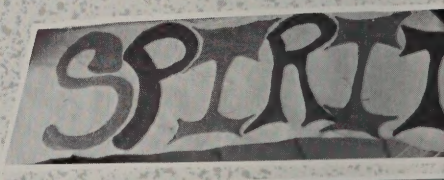
YES

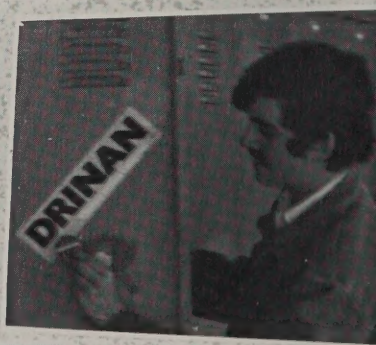
we've just begun . . .

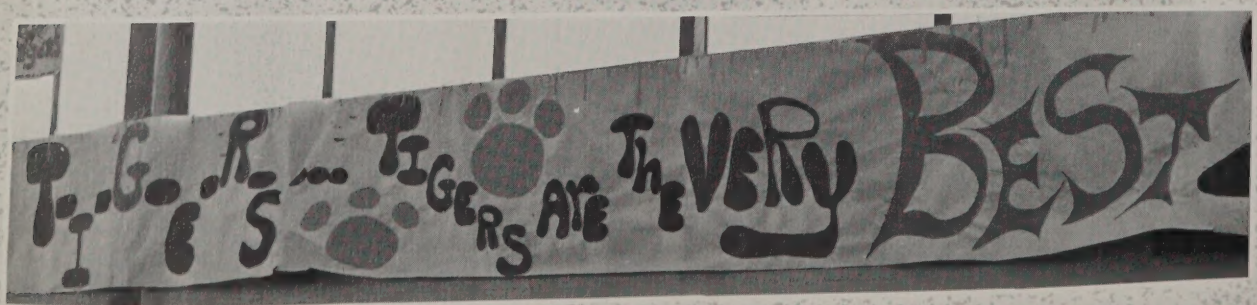


Sharing horizons that are new to us;

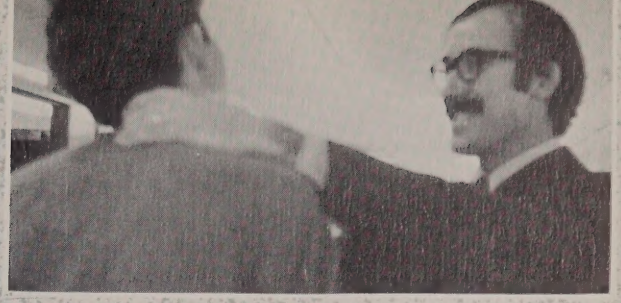
Watching the signs
along the way,

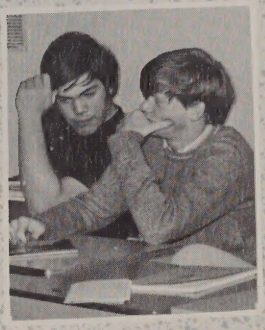




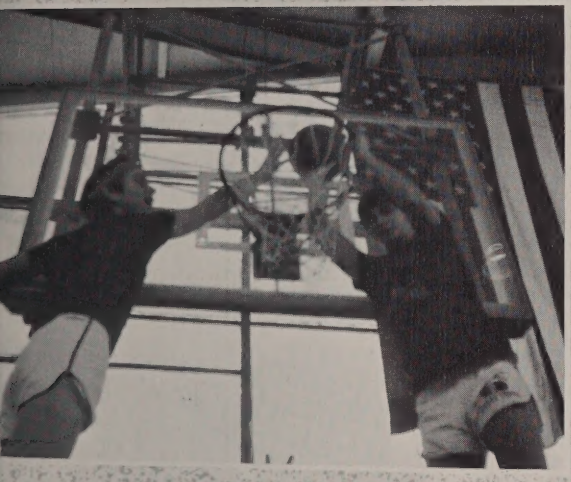


Talking it over, just the two of us,





Working together day to day --

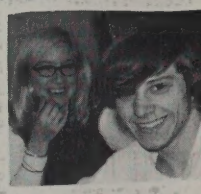


TOGETHER.

we've

And when the evening comes,

we smile.



So much of life ahead,

We'll find a place where there's room to grow.

And,

yes,

we've just begun --

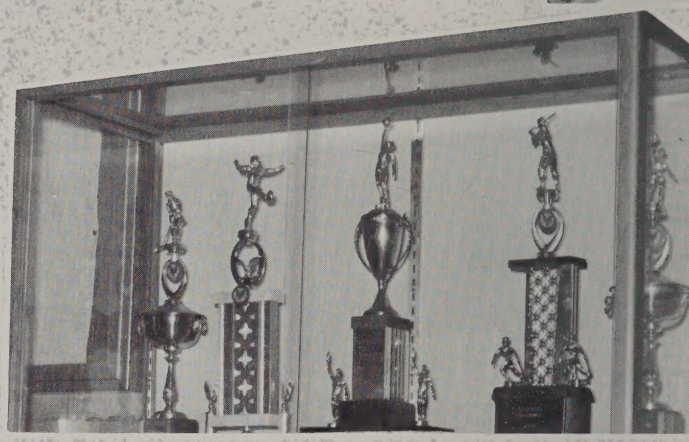
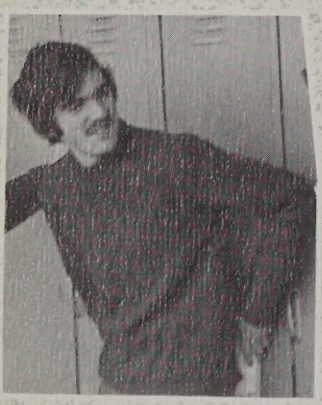
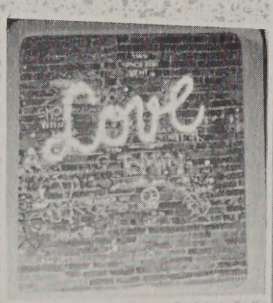
Sharing horizons that are new to us,

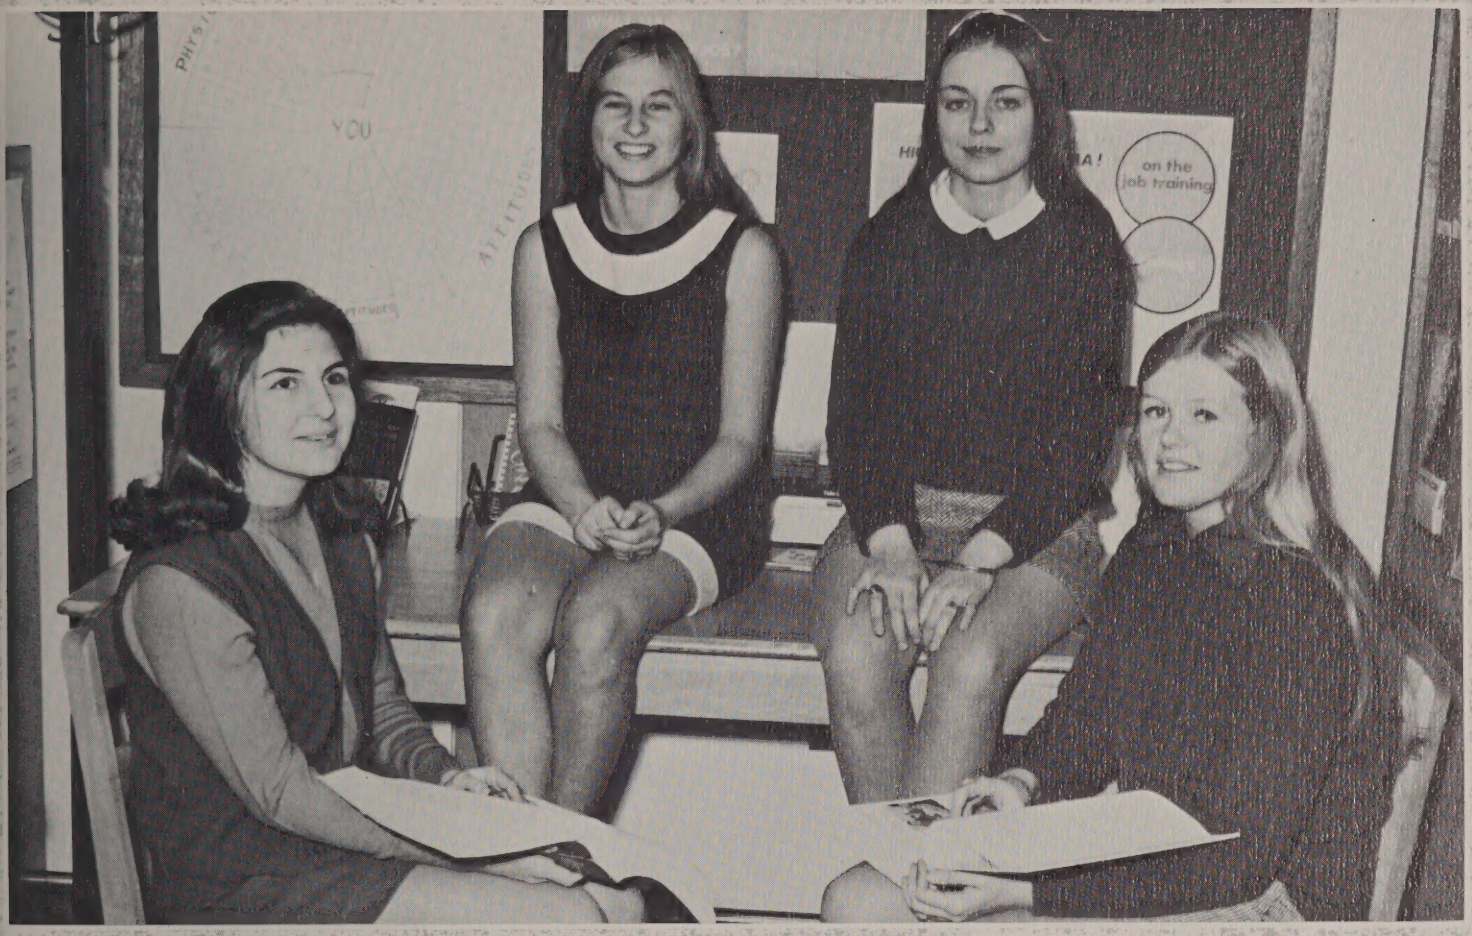


Watching the signs along the way,

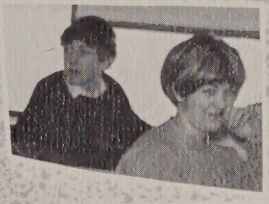


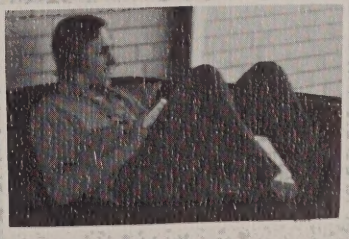


Talking it over, just the "four" of us,

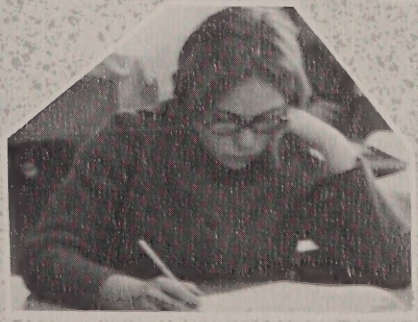


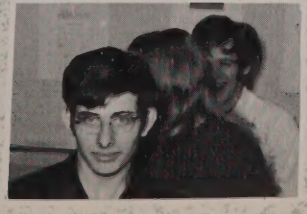
working together

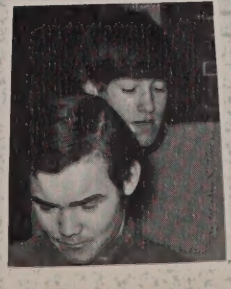




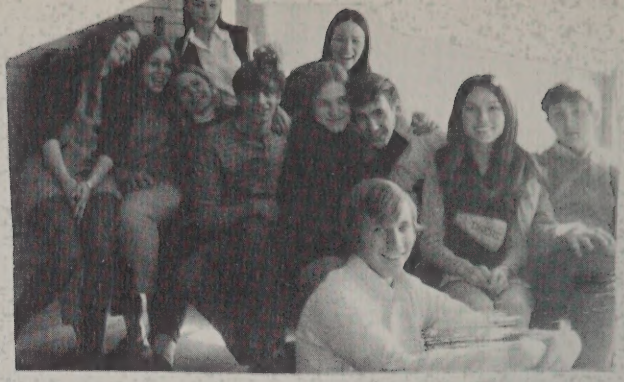
day to day --

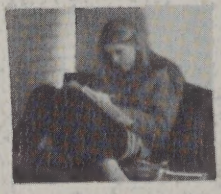




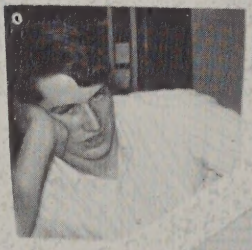


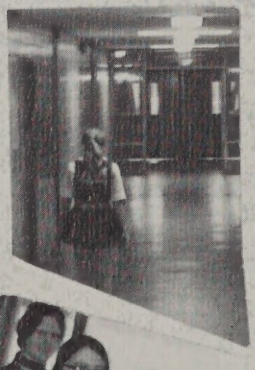
TOGETHER.

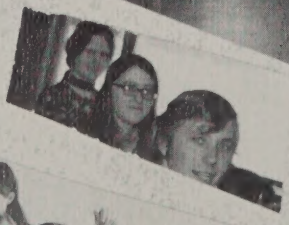




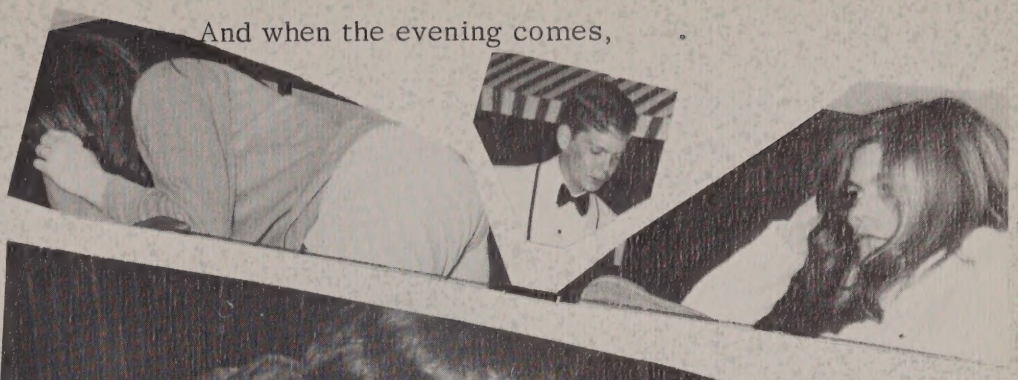
TOGETHER.





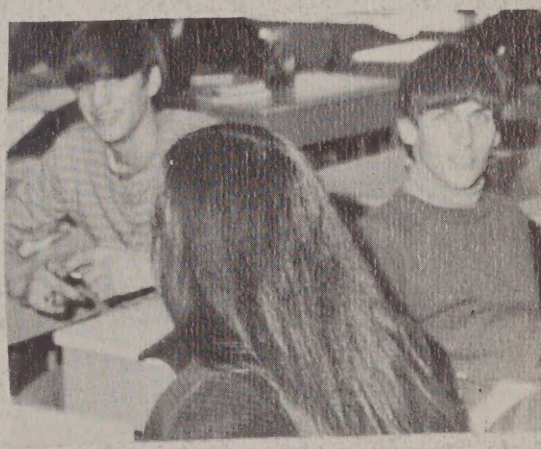


And when the evening comes,



we smile.

So much of life ahead,



We'll find a place where there's room to grow.

And, yes, we've just begun.

WE'VE ONLY JUST BEGUN

by

The Carpenters

We've only just begun — to live;
White lace and promises,
A kiss for luck and we're on our way.
We've only begun.
Before the rising sun, we fly.
So many roads to choose,
We start out walking and learn to run,
And, yes, we've just begun:
Sharing horizons that are new to us,
Watching the signs along the way,
Talking it over, just the two of us,
Working together day to day —
Together. Together.
And when the evening comes, we smile.
So much of life ahead,
We'll find a place where there's room to grow,
And, yes, we've just begun:
Sharing horizons that are new to us,
Watching the signs along the way,
Talking it over, just the two of us,
Working together day to day —
Together.
Together.
And when the evening comes, we smile.
So much of life ahead,
We'll find a place where there's room to grow,
AND, YES, WE'VE JUST BEGUN.

Dear Graduates:
As you come to the end of your high school education and you go forth into a competitive and disturbed world, may you look back on your experiences with us as a period when you developed maturity and understanding. If is our hope that you have not only acquired a background for "earning a living", but also have a clearer understanding of "how to live".

We extend to all of you our best wishes for success and happiness in the years ahead. However, you are reminded that a person profits according to the measure one takes and the effort one makes. We are hopeful that you will attempt to meet each and every challenge with an appropriate course of action.

Best Wishes,
Claude R. Jean
